

The Sweet Taste of Success!

I am a good cook and can make most things including bread.

BUT, apart from boiled fruit cake, I cannot make cakes, so I joined The Munch Bunch!

Yesterday it was my turn to host. I had made a leek and cheese quiche which I knew was good (I made two and we had one for dinner the night before!) and a marmalade cake which I had never tried before. It looked good but what would the verdict be?

Well, there is not much left – they all had several pieces and it was declared a “very good cake!” I now plan to adapt the recipe to make a ginger cake next time. Watch this space!

Masha's Marvellous Marmalade Cake!
Recipe available on request.