

Word From the Chair

Hello everyone.

Welcome to the latest edition of our newsletter.

As I am sitting and writing this, I am looking out of the window at the garden having just returned from a not so sunny Whitby. Our summer has been rather temperate and unsettled whilst our friends around the world have been experiencing extremes of weather.

In the last few weeks, I attended my first Committee as chair and having listened and read about all the wonderful activities and groups that are taking place on a day to day basis, it has given me a realisation that I have much to learn which I am striving to do with all your help and support.

I would like to take this opportunity to say a big welcome all our new members and hope that you enjoy all the activities that you attend and take part in.

Just to give a flavour of some activities that have taken place in the last few weeks there were two walks and buffets around the "Old Town" of Hull led by our friend Paul Schofield and these were well attended. With this in mind Sue McPhee organised a pub walk with Paul for the 4th October and this has proven to be very popular being currently fully booked.

We have had a writing competition, and this was won by Maureen Thompson (see page 13) with Lynn Bell as runner up.

This year the u3a Week is the 16th to the 24th September showing the activities and fun which take place across the movement every day. See page 3 for details of our Open Day.

Finally, just a plea from me, are there any engineers out there willing to support with a new Robotic Group.

If so, please let me know.

Thanks

Chris Poole

The Naturewatch team out on Safari, they have spotted something, but they are not sure what or where!

Nothing to this kitchen lark, we don't know what the fuss is all about! (don't tell the wife I said that)

Interest Group News

Group Co-ordinator

In the AWAKE u3a we have a great band of hard-working group leaders who give their time so that our members can enjoy all different types of interests. I am sure there will be a lot more interesting things that people could enjoy. I am asking if anyone would like to start a new group, especially if you have a hobby which you think others may like to learn about.

Let me tell you some of the groups that we have lost and maybe they could be started again. They include Wine Appreciation, Gardening, Long walks, German, Pudding club, Writing for fun where we did have two groups but have only one now.

Here are some suggestions for groups. Railways, Gin or Beer, Theatre, Classical music, Line dancing, Canasta. These are a few suggestions, and I am sure that there are a lot more. Don't hide your talents, share them with others.

Please get in touch if you think you would like to give this a try. Help is given.

Some of the books we read this last couple of months have already been reviewed but one new read was, 'A Year of Living Danishly' by Helen Russell. The writer goes to live in Denmark when her husband gets a job with Lego and she looks at why the Danes appear so happy and contented. Some interesting observations are made in relation to the Danish culture and way of life!! 'Something to Tell You' by Lucy Diamond is just a light summer read and tells the story of a young woman going to find her unknown father and the knock-on effects, an enjoyable story. We have a wide range of books to read over the next few months so if you're interested in joining one of the groups give me a ring (Chris Watson – 07530 256560) and I can answer any queries you may have.

Play Reading1

The July play reading was The Editor Regrets by William Douglas Home. Rosemary Brown the daughter of a well-known MP spends a weekend with ex-boyfriend Jimmy shortly before her wedding to Charles. Unfortunately, they are followed and interviewed by a very persistent gossip columnist. The photos and articles resulting from that interview - given whilst Rosemary and Jimmy were not entirely sober - will considerably embarrass her father and probably cost Charles his hopes of being selected as a candidate for a 'safe' seat. The machinations that take place to suppress the article the week before publication make for an extremely funny production.

The next play reading is on Wednesday 27th September.

Quizzing group

You don't need to be in a team as these are sorted out each Quiz, so anybody on their own can just arrive and be warmly welcomed. Our next dates are September 28th and October 12th & 26th.

If you want to know more, please get in touch 652766.

Stately Homes

After our summer holiday visit, we managed to fit in a quick trip to Nunnington Hall. We were a little disappointed that the doll's house rooms had been squashed into a smaller space making it a bit more difficult to spend time taking in all the details. We looked at Stately Homes/Chateaux in France in August and there were some very different styles compared to our usual buildings in England. In September we are having a visit to Boynton Hall near Bridlington, not usually open to the public so looking forward to that. If you would like more general information about the group, please do not hesitate to get in touch. (Chris Watson) on 07530 256560.

Ukulele Groups

Barely Awake

We have recently entertained at the Breastfriends group who meet at the Octagon in Hull, also a 'tropical' themed garden party at the Hallgarth Care home in Cottingham, the Beverley Beck Heritage weekend and at Albion house in Anlaby, a good time was had by all! We also have gigs lined up for the future at Willersley House and then back to Hallgarth for a Halloween Party.

Steve Roberts

Sunshine Strummers

After a record number of concerts during the early summer we deliberately kept the August period clear of performances to concentrate on working on a range of new songs which have focused on a sea and river related theme.

These have included Sea of Heartbreak, Blue Bayou, Moon River, Riptide, and I Want to Marry Lighthouse Keeper. One suggestion is that we should look at a tour of lighthouses to try out our new songs and a possible concert on the recently refurbished Spurn Light Ship may be a possibility.

We have also worked on developing our strumming patterns and great progress has been made on mastering the Island/Hawaiian Strum.

We take to the water very soon with a concert for the Beverley Barges Heritage Day on Sunday 10th September at Beverley Beck. Future Performances include playing at the Celebration of Older People at Cottingham Civic Hall on 28th September and bookings are coming thick and fast for the Christmas period!

We have two new experienced players joining us in September and although we have 25 members, beginners are always welcome. A short introductory course is available for anyone new to the ukulele.

To finish, just a special mention for our oldest member Bill Coop, who has just celebrated his 93rd birthday and continues to be a maestro on the ukulele!!

Gary and Hazel Hughes

It's the FUN & Culture Section

The 'Summer' themed writing competition has been judged and here is the winner penned by Maureen Thompson, a Poem about the summer raindrops.

I'm a little raindrop but it's summer after all
I know I shouldn't be around at least until the fall
Summer is for sunshine, swimming, barbecues
And I fully understand I really, really do
I hide within the fluffy clouds light as any feather
But when it's dark and stormy we raindrops stick together
We really are so sorry when we spoil your beachside fun
But it really is so funny to watch you pack and run
Summer in this country is a hit and miss affair
You know from being British a week of sun is rare
Summer rains are gentle and sometimes very loud
We raindrops hear the crashing as we sit upon our cloud
We really hope your summer is long and hot and dry
And we raindrops don't come pouring like a torrent from the sky

Summer is a season you welcome like a friend
But weather is just something on which you can't depend
You plan ahead in winter forgetting there is weather
Summer is a fun time when you can be together
You plan your fetes and weddings, forget about the rain
Until we little raindrops spoil it all again So in the month of

August when you're feeling blue
Just remember happy things and this is what you do
Laugh and sing out in the rain, smile up at the sun
Summertime is here at last enjoy it and have fun !!

Lynn Bell was runner up with her Summer story.

Summer always seems too far away when its winter with the cold and dark nights and you can't wait until Spring arrives with all the beautiful colours of the spring flowers giving you a taste for summer and the happy memories that you have enjoyed in summers gone by.

There are so many happy memories I am sure we all share with the joys of growing up and being out with our friends and just getting called in for your dinner or tea and thinking what a nuisance parents are interrupting your game. Apart from a week in the long school holidays most of it was playing outside having a great time. You don't realise how hard it was for parents, yet you still have the memories of going to Bridlington and staying in a caravan and having a picnic on the beach each day as summers seemed to be summers then with lovely weather.

Time goes so fast and before you know it you are all grown up and getting married and realising how hard it was when your parents began their married life, but adventures then begin with your loved one. Like the time you got your first car and going from Hull to Cornwall and stating that once past Taunton you would find a place to stay only to find that after getting through Taunton and one wrong turn and you are back in Taunton and after doing this 3 times not finding it funny anymore and thinking we would be parking in a field for the night as well as stating that you will not drive this far again without booking a B & B. There was also the time in Cornwall when we turned into a car park and saw 2 ladies sitting on a bench just in front of a parking space but deciding to get a space a little further along so as not to disturb them but before having the chance to get out of our car a car had decided to park in the space behind the ladies who ended up in the air on the bumper of the car, the car then reversed and the ladies came down with a thump and the people in the car just got out of it and walked away. We did laugh but did feel for the ladies.

As the years went by, we have had many a summer either in England or Scotland despite getting bitten by the insects. We have been lucky enough to travel the world with all the adventures that entails travelling by air, cruises, trains and pinching yourself that we are the fortunate ones to be able to do this with our break from work in the summer and gaining the knowledge of the different cultures of the countries we are visiting.

We moved nearer to family which has enabled us despite the poor weather to have get togethers and long evenings reminiscing over past summers and the holidays we have all taken. The adventure of sorting out the garden and trying out a veggie plot and sorting out the garden to make it colourful.

How we long for the summer weather to return to be able to sit and enjoy a glass or two in the evenings with friends.

Summer is not yet over, and more plans of holidays yet how sole destroying is to find that people want to move us into winter before summer has even begun with Christmas gifts in the shops in August. Time moves quickly enough without winter being thrown at us so early.

Summers are the best time of the year with so many opportunities which I intend to make the most of.

Changing Cars

Cars come in every style and shade
Sometimes I wonder where they've been made
Perhaps you have a favourite type
Or maybe you think it is all just hype
No more maintaining that rusty old banger
Repairs must be done in a posh garage hanger
Petrol or diesel the engine might guzzle
Changing your car can be such a puzzle
Features like economy comfort and speed
Are important things we just might need
New gadgets fill the salesman's patter
But in reality do they matter
Trade in the model that's become old
Will its value leave us cold
Top of the range increases the cost
Now we are bewildered and a bit lost
Finance or a loan may be the way
We'll make that payment another day
For the future we're told think green
Have we picked the right machine
For the planet electric tops the heap
But just now the price may be too steep
Without enough sockets for more power
A long journey might turn quite sour
So internal combustion could stay a while
If it does then I for one will simply smile
