

Write a piece of work around the topic of 'bus stop people.' It is entirely up to you what style of writing you choose, what genre you write it in and whether you include dialogue or not. Leaving you with the freedom to choose, will give me a good idea of your writing style.

If you could keep the word count between 400 – 500 words, emailed to me in a word document if possible.

Once I've received your submitted piece, I will send you another project if you'd like one.

Good luck; have fun and be brave. Go outside your comfort zone for maximum challenge and learning!

I look forward to reading your work. As with any Sharp Pencil Project, you don't have to do them, but I hope you want to! 😊
