Etc.etc.etc.....basically, given the tube, anything in London!

We are floating this `tour` at a relatively early date because some venues, particularly The Globe, are already selling tickets.

No commitment in just expressing an interest. Once we are clear that we have sufficient interest to create the essential economies of scale we can get back with more details and a firm proposal. For the moment no harm in giving us an idea of which ticketed events you might be interested in.
