

Book Club 2 – Where the Crawdads Sing by Delia Owens

The story is of a six year old girl named Kya abandoned by her family and forced to grow up in isolation in the marshes of North Carolina from 1952 to 1969.

This compelling story has elements of resilience, survival, love, trust and prejudice that focus on Kya as she learns to fend for herself.

Following our lively discussion, Book Group 2 all agreed that this was a really good read and would recommend this painfully beautiful mystery narrative and celebration of nature!!
