CBu3a Open Day 4th September 2022

To celebrate 40 years since the national U3A was founded we are planning an open day where we can show off our wares to both you and the public at large. Where? Arden Hall Castle Bromwich. We (the committee) hope you will help out and be part of the day. We will need of course groups to show what they get up to, demonstrations of the crafts we are involved with etc. More of what is planned will be outlined in the coming weeks; but please help if you can to make this day a great one. Frank

Please note that some groups have changed meeting days due to bank holiday

Memory Snippets

A couple of meetings ago I asked you all to raise your hands, which you did and then told you had all volunteered for a project! What is the project? Well, it was for each of you to write a short piece about a favourite memory, you had three months to let me have your favourite memory with the end of May the deadline. It could be from any stage in your life and about a half a page to a page long. Unfortunately, only three folks have responded, which is a shame as I'm sure there are a wealth of memory snippets out there just waiting to be told. We have an open day coming up in September and it would have been great to put them on show. So, I would like to extend the deadline until the end of June, to give you a little more time to delve into the cobweb box and dust off that memory snippet and jot it down. Send it via our email address (castleu3a7@gmail.com) or pass it on to me at the next meeting.

Shropshire Revisited: Ray Pearce. This is Ray's 60th article since lockdown started in March 2020. Well done Ray and we look forward to the next 60!

Lunartics

Hi All, Just fitted a motor drive to the telescope mount that enables the 'scope to follow things in the sky without having to keep twiddling the controls (well mostly). One problem I'm having at present though with the new mount, is re-balancing the 'scope after attaching the camera. Hopefully this will be solved soon and I'm able to show some astropics shortly.

Solar activity – The sun has several active sunspot areas with some quite complex in structure.

May 26 – Moon passes between Jupiter and Venus in the early hours of the morning in the eastern sky.

May 29 – Jupiter and Mars close together in the early eastern sky.

June 7 – First quarter Moon.
