

News in Briefs – Frank Hill

- ❖ Lonsdale Wilberforce Wollop the bare kneed boxer from Tinkling Bishop has been found guilty of severe cruelty to his pet rabbit by exposing his knees twice on Sunday. In mitigation Wallop said that at the time of the offence he was under the influence of sun tan lotion fermenting on his bendy bits. The trial judge during his closing statements admitted the he had from time to time also been under the influence!
- ❖ While peddling down the M5 to-day, Ignacious Gonkbonce was stopped by police and fined for excessive peddling while racing an articulated lorry!

Late News!

Princess Gelnite blew her top to-day after discovering a stowaway in her handbag. Horace KonkBottler apologised for any inconvenience to the princess, but explained that he was only trying to retrieve his Nyplnut spanner that had become lodged in a Fudgybit he was chewing at the time!

Chang Ripsit the leading exponent in the use of Liquorice Allsports for personal defence has regained the right to wear a string vest during the finals of the international Blouse making competition.

Ivor Biggun has failed in his attempt to cover his embarrassment.

A row has broken out between members of the Interstellar Architects Foundation and the Kracklybits Union; it would appear that the Founcil Man of the Year award has been given to the hall porter in error!