

WALKING THERE – John Parry/Brian Windsor

November 2023

This month we travelled to the village of Oakington for our walk. This walk contained plenty of variety as we made our way through the villages of Oakington and Longstanton. On the way we passed large country houses and a thatched church, while the walk took us along field edges, down farm tracks across open farmland and between old hedgerows. Our route passed between some of the new developments in Northstowe, crossing unused new roads going nowhere. We passed Oakington Barracks in Longstanton where Homes England have built offices and exhibition space from where they manage the Northstowe development. At the end of our walk we relaxed with coffee at The White Horse in Oakington. A relaxing end to a pleasant walk.
