

Farmer Barnes' Dairy, Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire Tuesday 17th September

Those of you who were at our monthly meeting in February will remember meeting Jane Barnes from Farmer Barnes' Dairy.

During her fascinating talk she invited us to come to the dairy for a conducted tour.

We have been able to secure Jane's services for the 17th September and she has recommended that we include a stop at Gates garden centre on the way. This will provide us with the perfect venue to stretch our legs and get some refreshment.

After lunch and having taken the opportunity to take a good look round the garden centre, we will leave at 2pm for a short drive to the dairy.

Here Jane will explain the workings of what she believes to be the largest dairy farm in Britain. In Jane's own words: 'Farmer

Barnes' Dairy is a proud working British Dairy Farm and is passionate about teaching people what happens on a dairy farm and how we produce milk for the award-winning Blue Stilton Cheese, made at Long Clawson Dairy'.

We are sure this will be a day out to remember.

Coach will leave
