Brand Guideline

Logotype

Our logo should be used in its simplest form, as a single colour. Putting the third age at the heart of the visual identity, celebrating the 3 as a visual asset and helping to change the national perception of ageing.

Hero logo

Our logotype strikes the right balance between feeling serious and grown up as well as having a friendly and approachable touch.

The u3a logo should only appear in a single colour. For the best contrast the logotype has been created in our Dark Blue, White and Black.

The logo should never appear in Yellow or Light Blue.

Pre-designed files of the logotype with the correct spacing can be downloaded from the brand toolkit.

Variations

We have three versions of our logotype.

- Horizontal strapline lock-up
- Hero logo. Single use with no strapline
- Stacked strapline lock-up

Pre-designed files of the logotype with the correct spacing can be downloaded from the brand toolkit.

learn,

learn, laugh, live

UJC

Always maintain an exclusion zone of the circle within our bespoke u3a logotype.

Our logotype should not be used smaller than 20mm in width. When using our logotype with the strapline the 'learn, laugh, live' text should be no smaller than 12pt where possible.

Pre-designed files of the logotype and strapline with the correct spacing can be downloaded from the brand toolkit.

In most cases we use a six column grid for flexibility and to give key elements enough room to breathe.

The primary location for our u3a logotype is the top left corner.

Reading from left to right its important we stick to this when using the 'learn, laugh, live' strapline.

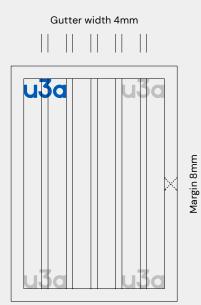

When our logotype is used in a singular form it's free to move wherever feels most natural in the design layout whilst retaining its clearspace.

More examples of our logotype in action can be found in the application section from page 51.

A4

A6

Local personalisation

Q

For local personalisation the logo must be used locally. Longer names should appear across two lines.

No additional words should be added to the personalisation of a local logo.

The name must appear in DM Sans Bold.

Please follow the clearspace guidance and positioning of our main wordmark shown on pages 7 and 8.

Examples of local personalisation logos can be viewed withing the Application section of the Brand Guideline from page 53. Horizontal local group lock-up

Stacked local group lock-up

Examples of personalised logos are shown here.

Colour

We are still yellow and blue; however, our colours have been refreshed to feel more modern, more fun, and visually more exciting in print and on-screen.

Colour

Primary

We have three primary colours. Our Yellow brings fun and excitement to all u3a brand communications. This is complimented by the Light Blue.

A deeper blue 'Dark Blue' has been retained to add greater tonal depth and give us the ability to use within text.

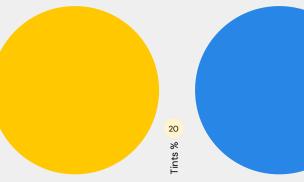

12

Breakdowns

The colour breakdowns should always be used throughout the u3a brand.

Our secondary colours should only be used sparingly. The following page gives an overview of the level of use.

Ensure your text is legible for all users by using contrasting colours. Contrast is best achieved with a light colour on a dark background, or a dark colour on a light one.

Typeface – Glyphs

The DM Sans font comes with alternative 'a's and '3's. When u3a is typed out we can use the alternative 'a's and '3's so it appears as u3a and visually looks like our logo.

The same treatment of 'a's can be applied to our strapline learn, laugh, live.

In some instances this may not be achievable if you are in a non design programme. However, the learn, laugh, live strapline with alternative a's is available as a graphic assets in the same way as the logotype has been made accessible.

Pre-designed files of the strapline with the correct spacing can be downloaded from the brand toolkit.

Typography

The A4 poster example shown here demonstrates how to use our DM Sans family of fonts.

There are a number of different weights in the DM Sans font family. For main headers on plain backgrounds we recommend using the DM Sans Regular. When image backgrounds are busier then DM Sans Bold should be used for better contrast.

For body copy, we use DM Sans Regular. Use the Bold weight to highlight key information.

Only use Italicised versions of the font to distinguish certain words from others within body copy. It can be useful when referencing a publication but should be used as little as possible.

Our people are the most important asset to the u3a movement. The imagery we use should always feel exciting, active, and confident and makes you want to feel part of something great.

In the moment imagery.

Members being active,
showcasing skills and interests from gardening to table tennis.

Photography should be eyecatching, but not too busy, and have a clear focus on the story you're trying to tell. Always show real people in real situations. Look for genuine human interactions, avoiding shots that feel staged for the camera.

By focusing on human interactions, the photography will have a clear sense of the moment being captured.

Note: Consent forms must be obtained for any recognisable individuals in the images.
These can be downloaded from the brand toolkit.

Our brand shapes have been constructed from the negative space within the u3a logotype.

They help bring a unique quality to our layouts, adding pace and energy. The shapes should also be used to house u3a photography.

Live the moment

The way we talk is just as important as what we say, whether in person, in print or online. It conveys our personality as a movement and helps us speak in a single, powerful and distinctive voice.

Tone of Voice

If we say the same things often enough, they'll stick, people will remember them, and associate those words and ideas with u3a. They'll reinforce u3a's "market position" and its mission. This will help to gain appropriate publicity: the press will associate u3a with "positive ageing", older people having fun and helping each other, keeping themselves physically and mentally alert.

New websites are being created for the central u3a and local groups, so web editors give us the opportunity to give a consistent description of u3a. Messaging is a part of the new brand.

The decision has been made to move to u3a and not continue to call ourselves University of the Third Age. Because of that, it seems logical NOT to use the terms University or Third Age in future as it simply reminds people of the past.

Tone of Voice

Elevator Pitch

Short memorable description of u3a benefits, often given to a prospective member:

Example

No longer in full-time work or raising a family? Join your local u3a to meet new people and enjoy exploring a wide variety of interests, at low cost.

(mention some local groups; u3a leaflet mentions "from Geology to Genealogy") See page 56

Briefly answers questions such as What industry are you in? What do you do? Who do you work with? Where are you located? When was your organisation founded? How big are you? – Number of staff, locations, etc. Needs to be interesting.

Example

Founded in 1982, u3a* is a UK-wide collection of locally-run interest groups that provide a wide range of opportunities to come together to learn for fun. People enjoy exploring new ideas, skills and activities together.

There are 1,039 u3as with over 430,000 members; membership costs on average less than £20/year and is open to everyone who's no longer in full-time work.

*originally called the University of the Third Age, now u3a.

Our Unique Value Proposition should appear prominently on our website Home page and in every campaign. The question is not, do we like the words, but rather do they do the job that a value proposition needs to do?

If we can make it "snappy", we should, but accuracy is more important. learn, laugh, live is a slogan, not a value proposition, because it doesn't make it clear exactly what's being offered to whom.

Examples

WI: "Inspiring women – then and now"

Royal Voluntary Service: "A national charity built on local volunteering, giving support to people to meet the needs of the day in the NHS and in our communities."

u3a Unique Value Proposition

Make the most of life once you're no longer in work. Explore new ideas, skills and interests with your local u3a.

To describe the u3a movement, u3a as a whole, use the Value Proposition:

Make the most of life once you're no longer in work. Explore new ideas, skills and interests with your local u3a.

To recruit people locally, use the Elevator Pitch:

No longer in full-time work or raising a family? Join your local u3a to meet new people and enjoy exploring a wide variety of interests, at low cost.

When writing about u3a, emphasise these words:

friendly, inclusive, opportunities, active, life-enhancing, local, low-cost, FUN, variety of learning opportunities

If you need to contact the press, go to the u3a website for a copy of the Press boilerplate, because it will be updated from time to time, to reflect changes in u3a like numbers of groups, etc.

Tone of Voice

Q&A

Q. How do we answer the question, "What does u3a stand for?"

A: It's our old name, now we're simply u3a. If you need to spell it out, do that via a footnote or reference. Avoid putting it in brackets after u3a as it maintains the link between the two.

Q. How do we talk about the age of our members?

A: We don't have to make a statement about age in order to attract members. They'll know what age group we target by our imagery (photos) and the way we describe activities. However, u3a is for older people – and we need to be proud of that, not hide it.

So, describe u3a as for "people no longer in full-time work." We no longer talk about Third Age.

Q. How do we talk about learning?

A: Learning is fundamental to u3a. We learn for fun, and we enjoy it. We don't do it to gain qualifications or job opportunities. So use positive words, emphasise variety and fun.

Q. How do we express ourselves so that the u3a appears energetic, accessible, friendly?

A: Think about the reader.

Get to the point quickly and simply. Address them as "you", e.g. write "if you want to find the answer to a problem" rather than "if a solution is required."

Use present tense to give immediacy. To convey energy, use short clear sentences: review and reduce the size of sentences. Use short paragraphs. Always avoid unnecessary punctuation, especially exclamation marks – they don't make it more interesting.

Brand Guideline

Social

Like our website, the u3a social pages are most likely the first place we will be seen. It's important our brand assets are consistent.

Circular or square, we should use one of the three colour options on this page for social sites such as Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube and LinkedIn.

Pre-designed files of the favicons with the correct spacing can be downloaded from the brand toolkit.

Square favicons

01. Dark Blue on White

O2. White on Light Blue

03. Dark Blue on Yellow

Circle favicons

01. Dark Blue on White

02. White on Light Blue

03. Dark Blue on Yellow

Unlike the logo favicons on the previous page our social banners are more likely to change depending on latest initiatives or announcements.

We should consider the various banner formats and sizes.

Bigger banners give us more room to include our logotype and additional copy. Size: 1536 px X 768 px

Consider image choice on thinner banners. Size: 1128 px X 191 px

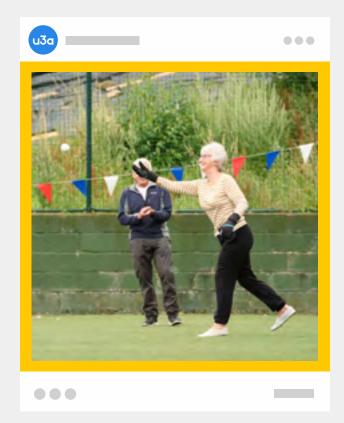

Standard banner example. Size: 1500 px X 500 px

Social

Instagram

Social pages like Instagram are very visual.

This pages shows examples of how we can keep our posts looking fresh. From simply adding a thin yellow boarder to some images we start to brighten up the image and make it more ownable.

u3a UK @u3auk

'Thank goodness for u3a.

I live alone and have been in lockdown, like everyone else, since the middle of March. I have learnt to Zoom into meetings, to attend art talks and convenors meetings. We have a lovely group learning French, we were meeting fortnightly but now meet weekly.

The following pages show a number of design examples and how our assets can be used.
