

POP UP BRIDGE

This group will be for reasonably experienced and relatively regular bridge players. It will be largely a taught group focusing on the three aspects of bridge – bidding, declarer play and defence. However, there will be occasional play sessions. The play will always be tutored with analysis of each hand following the play.

This group will be different from most other groups in a number of ways.

Group meetings will be ‘pop-up’ sessions in that they will not be on regular days, nor at regular times. The length of sessions will also vary and some will be in the evening and at weekends. Some meetings will offer refreshments, for example, cheese & wine or tea & cake, while others may be all-day sessions including lunch. All meetings will be limited to 8 people.

The group will have a fluid register of members who will be sent an email identifying the date, time, nature and subject of the next session. The first eight members to reply will form the group for that session.

If the experiences of my Bridge Masterclasses are anything to go by, the meetings will be both instructive and social. Most sessions will have a charge to cover food costs. For example, the all-day meetings, including lunch, would cost £15. Sessions will be held at my home in East Molesey.
