

Keith's profile

I left school at 15 and did a marine engineering apprenticeship on Tyneside. I left the shipyards when I was 20 and became a computer engineer working for Honeywell. I spent a total of 45 years working in the IT industry, initially as an engineer, and then in junior and senior management roles in the UK & Europe. The last 15 years before retirement in 2013 were spent as an Information Security Consultant working on both commercial and HM government contracts.

Before moving to Dawlish in 2013, I lived near Warwickshire on a small private housing estate of some 60 properties. There was a "Housing Association" that managed the estate, and at various times I was Treasurer and/or Chairman of the Association. I took on the role of Treasurer Exeter U3A following the AGM in February 2014.
