After three weeks we may find this more interesting than we might have done two weeks ago and again it's one of those activities for which everyone will have the components at home. I'm a great believer in recycling and this is so easy it could be done with grandchildren when we are together again. When it's finished hang it outside the back door or even in the kitchen near a window and fill with herbs you use regularly. It'll only last a couple of years but it will be appreciated when you don't have to go in the rain in the garden and can just lean out of the back door and snip. And remember it cost you nothing but maybe half an hour of your time.
