

Our Speaker Alan Cooke is a Scientist and asks the question "How Safe is Wireless Technology and 5G"?

Following more than five years research, he brings a fascinating insight into the wireless world of technology; how safe is it and are there possible long term health effects? He talks of smart meters, cordless phones, cell phones, w-fi etc. and what these mean for all of us in the future. Alan lifts the lid on why the government and power companies are so keen to install smart meters into our homes.
