Annual Flower Festival

For one week in April, come and marvel at room after room of glorious floral arrangements and displays in the ambience of John Carr's Georgian masterpiece.

Peter Anthony, in partnership with Greg Anderton, join forces to offer a breath-taking setting for the Flower Festival, shining a spotlight on the beauty, variety and versatility of the fresh floral and foliage displays. The Flower Festival also gives free creative rein to invited florists to share their artistry, expertise, and passion for floral design. There is even a section for our volunteers to show off their artistry.

A wonderful event for all.

To book and for more information check out our website www.lythamhall.org.uk

We have a new project to plant drifts of the wild daffodil (narcissus Pseudonarcissus 'Lobularis') made famous by William Wordsworth's poem and also the inspiration behind the name of Easter Daffodil Clifton, daughter of John Talbot Clifton. We hope that in early Spring we will have an abundance of daffodils to follow on from the snowdrops.
