

Just how extensive was the Suffragette militant campaign?

A U3A SLP research retreat at Royal Holloway

Join us as we delve into various online newspaper archives to discover the extent of Suffragette militancy in April and May 1913, a particularly active period for the Women's Social and Political Union.

The resulting research will then feed directly into Royal Holloway's open online course, Beyond the Ballot, enriching the studies of thousands of learners.

A free lunch is included. Sign up here.

12.00-4.30
7 Nov 2018

045 International Building
Royal Holloway

For more information:
citizens@royalholloway.ac.uk
Royal Holloway,
University of London
Egham, Surrey, TW20 0EX

Citizens: 800 years in the making

ROYAL HOLLOWAY
UNIVERSITY OF LONDON