

EVERYONE SHOULD HAVE A...

I kissed the Queen of Albuquerque,
Dressed up as a Thanksgiving turkey.

I kissed Queen Amaryllis Hubble -
That got me in a lot of trouble.

I kissed the travelling Queen of Trant
As we both rode on an elephant.

I kissed the Battle Queen of Venice -
She closed her eyes and called me Dennis.

I kissed the Bandit Queen of Guise -
But only on her tattooed knees.

The Harvest Queen of Chipping Shrubbury
Defends herself with utter snobbery.

I kissed the murdered Queen of France:
Her head bounced past. I took a chance.

I kissed the Queen of Old King Kong -
Her muscled lips are plenty strong.

I kissed the Red Squid Queen of Crete -
She lifted me right off my feet.

I kissed the Gypsy Queen of Sitges -
Up close she's nothing like her pictures.

I dodged the Queen of Syracuse.
(She really should lay off the booze.)

As for the long dead Queen of Spain -
I won't be going there again...

I kissed the Stone Queen of Rabat
I needed lip balm after that.

I kissed the Robot Queen of Mars -
She promised Love but gave me Scars.

*"Do you not see what all this means?
YOU REALLY MUST STOP KISSING QUEENS!"*

I know... It's name-droppy and gobby...
But everyone should have a hobby.
