

Paisley & District U3A Press Release

No embargo: for Friday 3 August 2018

Local U3A opera buffs dress up for Pagliacci event

A night at the opera certainly wasn't boring for members of Paisley & District's U3A opera appreciation group. They recently joined crowds of people inside a big tent at Seedhill Playing Fields in Paisley to sample Scottish Opera's latest production of Pagliacci which is set in a circus. There was such a great atmosphere that before the show started, some U3A members were among those photographed wearing fancy dress costumes available to the public.

Paisley & District U3A Chair Kathleen O'Donnell, who was also singing in the chorus said: "Something special happened right here in our town. People came together in a huge tent and discovered classical music in a fresh and exciting way. This opera received a positive response from our members, and everyone there enjoyed it too."
