

The English Civil War in Worcestershire with Max Keen

October's talk may have been our best attended yet since Covid. Those that came to Number 8 or watched on Zoom were treated to a magnificent performance by Max Keen as a follower of Charles I and Prince Rupert of the Rhine..... Your Majesty. Max took us at pace through the events in Pershore , Worcester and Bewdley from 1642 to 1650 of the Civil War or the Great Rebellion as he preferred to call it.

Members were certainly enthralled by his charismatic delivery and both entertained & educated at the same time. A visit to Fort Royal or the Commandery will be seen with fresh eyes in the future, and when you're next in Bewdley , look out for the blue plaques that aren't there!

If you didn't manage to catch the talk or would like to revisit it , it's still available on our YouTube channel by clicking here
