FROM THE CHAIR

Dear Members,

Rayleigh U3A is a part of a National Organisation that encourages people to help themselves by sharing skills, knowledge and activities to help others.

The 2011 U3A National Conference, celebrating the fact that we are now a quarter of a million strong, will be in Nottingham's East Midlands Conference Centre from 17th to 19th September. It will include the policy-making AGM, which takes key decisions on how the fast-growing organisation is going to face the future. Displays from regions will give an idea of the breadth of U3A activities.

For those members who are interested in on-line courses there are untutored courses available now in Digital Imaging, Garden History and Understanding Computers plus courses in Creative Fiction Writing, Creative Poetry Writing, Writing to Good Effect and Writing for Publication. Those interested in untutored Art History courses will find one suitable for beginners about Italian Art 1400 -1600. 'Artists of Spain' requires some knowledge as does 'Venice and her Artists' and 'Visiting Artists in Rome'.

The cost for access to all UK courses for twelve months is £10 but you must realise that there is NO FEEDBACK from a tutor. The course units can be downloaded at any time after the start of the course allowing you to work at your own pace and schedule.

Tutored courses cost an additional £5 on top of the £10 access fee. These generally consist of eight units weekly or fortnightly. You will work for 3 to 5 hours per unit fitting it into your day as you are able. You then submit your work to the tutor for evaluation. The tutor is available by e-mail to answer questions and give help. Most courses have a list of the participants with whom you can communicate providing the U3A hallmark of collaborative learning. It is also possible for a small group of participants (say 2 or 3) to work together on a course and submit work prepared jointly after discussion. This has proved very successful.

Visit www.u3a.org.uk for further details.

There will be news next month of our social events for the Autumn and Winter.

Enjoy the month of June.

Sincerely,

Maureen.

GROUP CO-ORDINATOR'S NEWS

Poetry – If you are interested in reading or even writing poetry, or just generally discussing various poets etc. then put your name down on the list at the next monthly meeting to find out more.

Antiques/Collectables – Another popular group which we will be setting up a.s.a.p. You may have an interest in particular Antiques/Collectables e.g. pottery, or you may just enjoy visiting places where various collections are on show. It can be decided once the group has its initial meeting. Watch this space!

There is not a lot to report this month but please be assured that at the next monthly meeting we will have more information about new groups which we are hoping to get up and running very soon.
