GUESTS WELCOME

ORAL HISTORY

Pat Selby

Speaking to the rapidly diminishing older generation is an important part of family history. For many of us the opportunity has been missed but instead, perhaps, we should be thinking of the information we leave to the next generation before it's too late. Pat, who is an experienced oral historian, will share the recording techniques with us and illustrate her talk with some very interesting local examples.

Should there be time we will seek to answer any of your questions.

There will be no meeting in August.
