Croft House

- NGS (National Garden Scheme)
- Wander through an acre of trees, shrubs and herbaceous borders densely planted with a designer's passion for colour and texture. Hidden areas invite you to linger. Organically managed, this generous space provides a haven for birds and other wildlife. There's a frog pond, tree house, small vegetable plot and a few venerable old fruit trees from its days as a market garden.
- Owners: Isobel and Patrick Somers

Hillers

- Farm Shop, Garden Café, Garden Shop, Gifts, etc.
- Display Gardens: Warwickshire's best kept floral secret, established for over 20 years. A beautifully laid out garden, with over 150 varieties of roses, including David Austin and old-fashioned roses. Also, on display are a range of unusual herbaceous plants as the garden is a source of inspiration and ideas for planting
- It's safe to say that the rose garden is very much the centrepiece of The Hiller Garden, regarded as one of the finest rose gardens in Warwickshire. Set within the grounds of the Ragley Estate, an absolute must see for rose enthusiasts.
- We have a superb selection of roses nestled alongside peonies, clematis and tulips across our 2-acre garden of which we sell a number of these plant varieties. In June and early July the roses will undoubtedly steal the show, it's an exceptional time to visit.
- A true hidden gem that boasts over 150 varieties of roses making this the perfect location to take a step back, relax and enjoy the beautiful natural surroundings.
- Hillers Farm Shop is run by fourth-generation sisters, Sally and Emma, who are at the forefront of this busy, flourishing rural business. The award-winning Farm Shop has an array of fantastic homemade products and many other delicious items that are carefully selected from specialist suppliers. Within the Farm Shop, there's a delicatessen and well-stocked cheese counter, Ragley Estate Meats and Hillers Fish Shop.
- Group lunch being arranged.
