

The following links explain more about LiDAR and its use in discovering the past

Video – How does LiDAR work:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EYbhNSUnldU>

Video – Use of LiDAR in The New Forest:

<https://www.hlsnewforest.org.uk/projects/heritage/lidar/>

England and Wales LiDAR Map:

<https://houseprices.io/lab/lidar/map>

Joseph Foord - The 18th century watercourses of Joseph Foord (1714-1788) were irrigation channels constructed to convey water to areas in the North York Moors where the supply of water was poor:

http://www.yorkshiremoors.co.uk/people/joseph_foord.html

Historic Environment Record:

<https://www.northyorkmoors.org.uk/discover/archaeology/her-map>

North Pennines Archaeology:

<https://altogetherarchaeology.org/>