

Cross Channel Connections

From Bayeux to Banksy

A study morning presented by Tenterden U3A in association with Cranbrook, Goudhurst, Hawkhurst, Rye and Weald U3As on Saturday 17 November, 10.00-13.00, Sinden Theatre, Homewood School, Ashford Road, Tenterden TN30 6LT

South-east England and northern France have been connected by history and trade, in war and peace, for well over a thousand years. We will look at relations across the narrow seas as reflected in a range of different works of art. In The Bayeux Tapestry: a failure of cross-Channel diplomacy historian Imogen Corrigan reveals the story of broken promises, ambition and diplomacy behind this great turning point. In Look both ways photographer and writer Tom Evans will examine some of the connections made by modern artists, including their reactions to the Channel Tunnel and Brexit.

Tickets £8.00 from Lindy Bates, Townland, Sixfields, Tenterden TN30 6EX, tel 01580 764505.
