

The English at Home

From Court to County

A study morning presented by Tenterden U3A in association with Cranbrook, Goudhurst, Hawkhurst, Rye and Weald U3As on Saturday 16 November, 10.00–13.00, Sinden Theatre, Homewood School, Ashford Road, Tenterden TN30 6LT.

Habits and architecture have evolved in fascinating ways over the centuries to shape the way we live now. In Courtly Manners: how to get on in medieval society Imogen Corrigan will examine manners in Medieval England, when the courts of France and Italy set the style and the etiquette of formal dining was a minefield for the unwary. In The English Home Dr Judith Shaw will show how English vernacular architecture in Kent and Sussex, from the Tudors to the Georgians, reflects changes in class, wealth and ways of life.

Tickets £10.00 from Lindy Bates, Townland, Sixfields, Tenterden TN30 6EX, tel 01580 764505.
