The Sunday lunch group met at The Lion in Malpas on 3rd October. The Lion has recently undergone major refurbishment and is definitely worth a visit.

Next lunch is on the 7th November at the Grosvenor at Pulford

We are looking to have a Christmas Lunch at the Alvanley Arms on the first Sunday in December.

Ukulele Group

Another excellent Ukulele session this week – it was a homage to Simon and Garfunkel and the Beatles as we played a number of songs by both.

Kim Connolly's daughter Sarah joined us for a "guest appearance" with her cello. She is an extremely accomplished musician and the cello meshed beautifully with the ukuleles particularly for The Sound of Silence, everyone really enjoyed it. Thank you for suggesting it, Kim.

A number of the group recently went to a concert by the Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain at the Lowry in Manchester. It sounded an amazing evening.

Cryptic Crossword Group

Cryptic Crossword Group met on the 27th September at Mike Woollard's house. We went through the answers to an exceedingly difficult Telegraph crossword which I think everyone agreed wasn't the best we have attempted.

At the Open day we plan to have a cryptic crossword to complete – we will ask members to help us to complete it on the day.

The drawing group is now meeting alternate Monday afternoons in Hargrave Village Hall 2pm-4pm. We started with a still life of fruit & vegetables. Here is a photo of our first session. Carolyn Vickers

Poetry Group

We met this week in the Communal room at the St Albans in Tattenhall – Pauline led the session where we read poems about things of value to us. It's a wide subject and was interpreted in a number of different ways.

Jim read a poem by Robert Burns titled The Inventory, in answer to a mandate by the surveyor of taxes and Linda read a poem she had written Calm before the Storm, describing waiting in the wings to go on stage.

The other poems were

Amanda Dalton - Bird on a Wire

Helen Dunmore - Plain tree outside Ward 78

Eleanor Farjeon – It was long ago

John Masefield - Tewksbury Road

Walter De La Mere - The Listener

K C R Clarke - The Value of things

Dr John Celes - Things that are hard to find

A E Houseman – Loveliest of trees the cherry now.

Walking Groups

Monday Group - Jill Hughes

This Monday the usual suspects met in the Orchard Carpark at Erdigg for a walk of around 4 miles. It was a beautiful day, in spite of the poor weather forecast, and Viv led us through woods and tracks around the estate.

The second walk by the Monday mini walk group was from Golden Nook Bridge. Five of us walked along the canal towards Waverton to the first bridge. We used this to cross the canal, and from there went through several fields, finding the path with difficulty at some points. Emerging onto Martin's Lane, we turned right along a quiet country lane then across more fields back to our starting point. Afterwards we went to Alison's Cafe for coffee or a light lunch. The rain at the start didn't last thankfully.

Short Walk in October

The next short walk will be on the 14^{th of} October starting from the Fox and Barrel in Cotebrook.

Third Age Trust Strategy from Sam Mauger, Chief Executive, and Liz Thackray, Chair of the Third Age Trust

This is an extract from the latest U3a national newsletter about the development of the u3a going forward. If you have time, I encourage you to look at and complete the survey mentioned below.

We'd really like you to have your say in helping the Third Age Trust develop a strategy to guide the future work of the u3a movement.

We want to hear from you about what you see as the priorities going forward and the targets we should be setting ourselves

This survey is part of a wider consultation process to ensure that a relevant and bold strategy is developed by u3a members for u3a members.

Your responses will be anonymous and the findings of the consultation process will be reviewed by the end of the year with firm proposals being developed early next year.

This short survey seeks your views on four initial aims and you can find it in the button below. These are draft aims and reflect early thinking. You may not agree with these aims. You may have ideas for additional or substitute aims. Or you may think these are exactly what is needed.

The survey can be found here:
